Vibrant, connected, progressive. This is the community’s aspiration for Perth and the City of Perth is proud to reflect this in our latest Strategic Community Plan.

Since developing our first Strategic Community Plan in 2013, the City of Perth has come a long way to ensure the community’s aspiration remains foremost in our minds as we build and enhance Perth city.

On 2 March 2018, the City of Perth Council was suspended pursuant to Section 8.19 of the Local Government Act 1995 and three Commissioners were appointed: Eric Lumsden as Chair Commissioner, Deputy Chair Commissioner Gaye McMath and myself as Commissioner.

Following Eric Lumsden’s resignation in August 2019, I was appointed as Chair Commissioner and Len Kosova was appointed as Commissioner. Together with Deputy Chair Commissioner Gaye McMath, we are continuing to focus on getting the City of Perth into good shape to deliver the best outcomes for the community.

The City of Perth’s role is to recognise, promote and enhance the social, environmental, economic and cultural setting of the city for society, both now and into the future. By representing the broader Perth area and the state of Western Australia, the City of Perth builds on the progress made to date and ensures Perth city will continue to flourish for future generations.

The City must continue to work closely with the community to create and nurture thriving neighbourhoods that connect people and celebrate our many diverse cultural identities by recognising that each neighbourhood precinct has its own distinct character.

Thank you to everyone who has contributed to this plan. You will have a significant impact on planning a sustainable future for Perth city and the community.

Andrew Hammond
Chair Commissioner
At the City of Perth, we are proud to use the community’s aspirations as the guiding principle for the delivery of our services. By developing a clear and strong connection to the community’s needs, we can focus on creating meaningful differences in our neighbourhoods and for Perth as one of the most liveable cities in the world.

We acknowledge the City of Perth has some work to do, to restore faith and trust in the organisation and its leadership. Through our Corporate Recovery project, we have set the foundations for the City of Perth to once again be a leading capital city and exemplar of local government.

The City of Perth is committed to working towards providing excellent leadership to support a growing and evolving population. Teams have been set up to better align their service delivery with our strategic priorities and deliver community focussed outcomes.

This Strategic Community Plan will provide critical direction for our decision-making processes, services, projects and financial commitments. It will guide our services and facilities for the community, as well as determining our infrastructure requirements. These will be identified through our Corporate Business Plan and Long Term Financial Plan and implemented through the annual budgeting process.

As an organisation, we are committed to being open and transparent with our decisions, ensuring the City’s resource efforts and services are adequately aligned to the needs and aspirations of the Perth community. We are constantly evolving our reporting abilities and techniques to give our community and Council a better understanding of how we are delivering strategic outcomes.

We aim to genuinely partner with our stakeholders to build a sense of vibrancy, celebrate and develop our diverse cultural experiences as well as supporting economic growth to enable Perth to continue to compete on the world stage as one of the great liveable cities.

With the help and support of the community, key stakeholders and our skilled staff, we can create a city that is vibrant, connected and progressive. A city that people want to live, visit, work, study and invest in as part of their everyday life. This is the City of Perth’s commitment.
Introduction

Perth is the only Australian capital city located on the edge of the Indian Ocean and shares an approximate time zone with 60 per cent of the world’s population.

The city has direct access to the rapidly growing and maturing economies of South East Asia, including global business centres such as Beijing, Singapore, Hong Kong, Kuala Lumpur and Taipei. The introduction of direct flights from Perth to London and Japan has also resulted in increased tourism and economic opportunities.

A favourable climate and quality of life underpins Perth’s global reputation as a highly liveable city. The ability to attract global talent is important and depends on Perth city being seen a ‘great city in which to do business’ and a ‘great city in which to live’.

As a dynamic local government, the City of Perth provides services and facilities to a broad range of stakeholders including residents, businesses, workers, students and local, national and international visitors.

Acknowledging its role in tourism, business and economic development, the City of Perth Act 2016 formally recognises the City of Perth as the State’s capital city local government authority, with scope to broaden responsibility not only to its ratepayers, but to the Western Australian community.

The passing of the Act confirmed Perth as a focal point on the world stage and provided greater opportunity for collaboration with the State Government, ensuring Perth continues to grow and become an increasingly innovative, sustainable and vibrant city.

The City’s responsibilities identified in the Act, along with community feedback and other legislative requirements, have guided the development of this Strategic Community Plan. As a result, it recognises more than the needs of the City’s defined local government area and considers the desires of all Western Australians.

The resulting Strategic Community Plan 2019-29 is a result of comprehensive dialogue with businesses, residents, stakeholders and visitors to generate thousands of ideas across six broad themes: People, Place, Planet, Prosperity, Performance and Partnership.
City at a glance

To adequately plan, the City must understand its current state and anticipated population growth. This Strategic Community Plan takes into consideration population growth, economic fluctuations and environmental trends, as well as social and community needs, now and into the future.

Economic

- Total office floorspace: 1,915,338m²
- Gross regional product: $41.4 billion
- Economic output: $75.5 billion
- Daily workforce population: 149,474

Top industry sectors by economic output:

- 33% Mining
- 13.6% Finance and Insurance
- 10.9% Professional, Scientific and Technical

Environmental

- Total area of parkland and reserves: 541.9ha
- Number of parks and reserves: 26
- River frontage: 11.25km
- Total length of roads: 95km
At this growth rate, by 2035 Perth city’s density will be on par with the City of Melbourne of today, and by 2050, the City of Sydney.
The City of Perth provides its community and visitors with many services, projects and programs designed to enhance the city as a place to live, visit and work.

Perth is a young and constantly evolving city in comparison to other capital cities throughout the world. The feedback received from the community indicated that it wants to be a part of a city that is a great place for people to live, work, visit, study and invest. The community wants the city to be seen as a beautiful and connected place that provides vibrant, diverse and friendly experiences.

Perth should be seen not only as a city that is bold and progressive in its way of life, but also have a sense of distinctiveness that people can confidently promote.

Vibrant, connected, progressive.

6 Partnership

Aspiration

A City that has earned the respect and support of the local industry through strong partnerships with state bodies, industry and community groups and other key stakeholders.

Objectives

6.1 Strategic planning objectives and operational activities of the City that fulfil the objects of the City of Perth Act.

6.2 Genuine collaboration between the City and State on major projects that add considerable value to the city’s economic, social and environmental fabric.

6.3 The City of Perth Committee embraced as an effective and collaborative forum for the exploration of ideas and opportunities and the integration of planning processes and major project facilitation between the City and the State.

6.4 The City of Perth seen as an active contributor to the national agenda for capital cities by its participation in the Council of Capital City Lord Mayor’s Forum.

6.5 Meaningful and sincere engagement with associations and organisations that represent various interest groups, to facilitate and promote a shared vision for Perth as a city.

6.6 Collaboration, support and communication with neighbouring local governments, peak industry associations and community groups to optimise outcomes for wider Perth areas served by all of these stakeholders.
Trends and challenges

Multiple factors influence the way the City of Perth plans and makes decisions. Good decision-making requires an understanding of global and local trends and challenges. The following influences were assessed for their applicability to Perth city now and into the future.

Ageing population

Greater Perth’s population is ageing. While we benefit as a society from the skills and knowledge of our older generation, the widening retirement savings gap, coupled with escalating health care expenditure, will alter people’s lifestyles, the services that are needed and the structure of the labour force.

Climate change

Changes in earth systems are creating significant challenges for humanity, affecting the ecosystems we plan for and live in. Globally, greenhouse emissions are altering the climate to create less predictable local weather systems. Perth city will need to make smart decisions to deliver local responses, including addressing severe flooding events, a rising sea level (river) and increasing urban heat island effects.

Technology

The internet has caused a remarkable expansion in digital technology and harnessing the virtual world has become important to all facets of society. With improved data transfer systems (increased volume and connectivity), there is likely to be an increase in productivity and efficiency in high-tech industries, presenting Perth city with an opportunity to invest in this globally active area.

Economic power shift

The rise of China and India as global powerhouses is causing a shift in wealth. Developing trade markets and a rapidly growing middle class in these regions will cause a transition from an industrial-based manufacturing economy to an advanced service economy that demands education, tourism entertainment and healthcare. Perth city is well located to benefit from these opportunities.
Global boundaries

Globalisation is set to reshape government, organisations and employment. The increasing interconnectivity of the world could threaten the economic health of Perth city, given its economy is heavily influenced by shifts in the resources sector. Perth will need to adapt to changes in global demand and expand its economic base to include more service-based industries, such as education and hospitality.

Homelessness

Wealth is growing in key populations, resulting in increased demand for services. However, this is coupled with increased societal income inequality. Already evident on the streets, this inequality results in disadvantaged rough sleepers seeking comfort and safety close to support services. To address homelessness complaints (for example rough sleeping and begging), a mutually agreed reporting pathway and response is required between the City of Perth and WA Police.

Antisocial behaviour and safety

Antisocial behaviour and crime is a key factor in addressing a difficult retail trading environment which includes high retail vacancy rates and low growth in visitor numbers with concerns from businesses and the community about public safety.

Addressing this issue will complement many of the objectives of the Strategic Community Plan including increased residential population, more tourist and business visitors, attracting new retail businesses and the global brand position and reputation for Perth. The City of Perth is working with WA Police to create an action plan to address this.
The City’s integrated approach

The City of Perth takes an integrated approach to its planning to ensure the City’s operations are focussed on delivering the best outcomes for the community now and into the future. Through extensive research, analysis and consultation, the City develops plans aimed at enhancing the quality of Perth city as a great place to live, work, visit, study and invest in.

The Integrated Planning Model provides the organisation with a clear structure that guides a coordinated and collaborative process to develop the City of Perth’s strategic direction and subsequent organisational activities.

The principal guiding document for the City is the Strategic Community Plan. The plan is developed through research and an understanding of the external environment and the constraints faced by the City of Perth. It sets a vision for the city and articulates the aspirational outcomes, objectives and measures for the City of Perth to work towards over the next ten years.

The Corporate Business Plan sets the City’s services, projects and activities over four years. It is informed by the City’s workforce, long-term financial and asset management plans. It also guides, and is guided by, the development of issue specific strategies, which then inform service plans and the City of Perth’s Annual Budget.

Risk management is also an integral part of good management practice and an essential element of sound corporate governance. Identifying and managing risk enables a more robust basis for effective decision-making and facilitates continuous improvement in performance.

The implementation of objectives identified in this Strategic Community Plan will be achieved through contemporary project and people management practices, with active identification and management of associated risks. Implementation progress and success with service delivery will be tracked on an ongoing basis for all identified actions.

Progress towards the City’s strategic objectives and goals will also be reported on an annual basis through the City of Perth’s Annual Report.

The Strategic Community Plan guides the City of Perth in the services and activities it provides. However, delivering quality services and enhanced liveability cannot be done by the City of Perth in isolation.

During development of this plan, it was important for the City of Perth to have consideration for other organisations’ views and objectives that have an impact on Perth.

The City of Perth places importance on forming partnerships, advocacy platforms and facilitation efforts to provide a collaborative approach to meeting community expectations.
